

Our traits and characteristics

In defending the religion of Allah and His people

We enjoy the agony of death.

We seek death with exhilaration

And give our souls generously, in order to be excused by God.

Our faces refuse being slapped in shame

but not getting wallowed in dirt after getting stabbed

Dying in battles is our trait and a mark

Of our sincerity unlike cowards who live long.

Our leaders never die on a bed

Nor do they fight in the back lines.

And if we ever lose a leader

Another brave lion takes his place generously.

The death of a freeman is not an insult

The Prophet (PBUH) wished to be repeatedly killed.

Death for the sake of Allah is a privilege verily martyrdom clears all the sins.

For death is better than living humiliated

under tyrants ordering us what to do

O Lord give us steadfastness until we see

Our bodies scatter for your sake
